Nat'l SCLC officials to appear in city

In preparation for the March of the Poor on Washington, Rev. Andrew J. Brown, president of the Indianapolis affiliate of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), announced that there will be an important and critical public meeting this Sunday afternoon, April 28, at 5 pm at the St. John Baptist Church, 1701 Martindale.

This meeting will focus on "Where Do We Go From Here?" Rev. Brown said that one of the places that Indianapolis will go to is Washington to participate in the demonstration which will realistically highlight the plight of the poor.

A delegation of top aides from the national staff of SCLC will be in attendance at this meeting to interpret the broad purposes and objectives of the Poor Peoples' March on Washington. They will also outline the regenerated militancy of SCLC and how it will effect the Indianapolis community.

Rev. William H. Clark, executive vice president of SCLC, said that in addition to participation in the Washington project, a massive local march with the Poor in Indianapolis is being planned to take place in the next few weeks.

Rev. Clark commented that there is an imperative need for us to focus attention on the state of the poor and the forgotten in this community. The poor of Indianapolis, both black and white, will be mobilized and encouraged to take part in this effort which draw attention to the injustices and inequities which are heaped upon the poor in this community.

Rev. Brown said that other items that will be on the Sunday afternoon agenda will be the political and social implications of the coming primary election.

Everyone is urged to come out and participate in this important meeting.

WILLIAM M. JOHNSON

In recognition of his novel, "The House on Corbett Street," William M. Johnson, 1512 Bellefontaine, was cited by Indiana University President E. J. Stahr as one of the most distinguished authors publishing books in 1967.

The occasion was the Author's Day Award Ceremony sponsored by the Annual Indiana University Writers' Conference held in the Memorial Union building at Bloomington April 21. This marks the first time a Negro author has been presented one of the literary citations.

Local black ministers praise efforts of L. S. Ayres & Co.

DANIEL F. EVANS

L. S. Ayres and Company on Tuesday morning received praise from a large group of local ministers for its program of impartial hiring and upgrading the fortune of the Negro and of encouraging good race relations in Indianapolis.

Seventy-five pastors of Indianapolis churches were guests of the large department store chain at a breakfast meeting at which Ayres executives presented a report on the results of a special program it began several months ago.

Daniel F. Evans, President of Ayres, told the group that in the past the company felt it was doing well. "However, today we are doing more, and we still don't seem to be doing enough."

"We recognize the seriousness and the urgency of improving the fortune of the Negro and of encouraging good race relations in Indianapolis."

"Nothing less than civilization as we know it is at stake," "The root cause of the illness gripping our cities is not so much violence as it is a streak of injustice that stains the American System," Mr. Evans asserted.

Jacobs assured King stamp to receive 'top priority'

WASHINGTON — Congressman Andrew Jacobs Jr. (Dem.-Ind.) announced this week that a special Congressional committee has been scheduled to consider his suggestion that the Post Office Department issue a commemorative stamp in honor of the late Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Congressman Jacobs received word of the meeting following the letters he wrote April 16 to President Johnson and the Postmaster General, urging them to issue the stamp.

The 11th District (Ind.) Congressman also introduced in the House on Monday of this week a bill directing the Postmaster General to issue the stamp in the denomination of six cents, the most commonly used first class rate.

The legislation also specifies that the stamp shall first be placed on sale in Atlanta, Ga., home of the martyred civil rights crusader who was slain, April 4 in Memphis, Tenn.

The Postmaster General informed Congressman Jacobs by letter that the Post Office Department's Citizen's Stamp Ad-

MUNCIE — John Hamilton, executive of the Madison Branch of the YMCA, here was discharged early this week by the YMCA board of directors. Mr. Hamilton, former Indianapolis "Y" executive, stated that he was called into a meeting by Bruce Gunn, general YMCA secretary, and discharged on the spot.

The meeting was attended by the president of the YMCA board of directors who at the same time is a trustee and vice president of the Muncie Community School Board.

Mr. Hamilton, president of the local branch of the NAACP in spirit and fact or action has been associated with the protest against construction of a new Northwest High School. Opponents of the plan contend it would be a continuation of the existing pattern of segregation. Bids on the new school have been opened to contractors.

His friends and supporters including some white persons assert that Mr. Hamilton's discharge from the "Y" post relates directly to his activities in the contested school situation and the NAACP.

Further, the local NAACP has been a party to explorations of a situation disrupting the educational program at Southside High School here. Among other issues involved are the display of Confederate

Delivery man, Northsider die after shootings

Two individuals were arraigned Thursday on preliminary murder charges stemming from separate shootings which resulted in the death of a fuel oil delivery man and a near-Northside resident.

Bound over to the Marion County Grand Jury was Mrs. Delores Fletcher, 41, who allegedly used a fatal pistol shot to terminate an argument with an acquaintance. Twenty-one-year old Herman Lee Livingston, originally booked in February on a robbery charge, was arraigned again after the victim died this week of a gun wound said to have been inflicted during commission of the felony.

Mrs. Fletcher is being held in connection with the death of Nottley Woods Jr., 2003 Ruckle, who died about 9:30 p.m. April 19 from a bullet wound in the chest at Methodist Hospital. The suspect also lists the Ruckle address as her residence.

Questioning a witness, Miss Barbara J. Hagan, 38, 1646 N. Arsenal, produced the following police account.

Mrs. Fletcher and Woods became involved in a heated argument in the house and the man produced a shotgun and threatened Mrs. Fletcher. As the melee progressed, he struck her about the head with the weapon and advanced on her menacingly. In defense, Mrs. Fletcher shot her assailant with a .22-caliber pistol.

The wounded man managed to stagger outside where two strangers responded to his pleas to be taken to a hospital. She was arrested later in the 2400 block of Winthrop.

Police summoned to the scene found the Oil-Way Inc. employee suffering from a bullet wound in the head and arrested Livingston, 823 W. 21st, the next day. The victim died Wednesday at General Hospital.

Until Ferguson's death, Livingston was being detained at the jail until a Criminal Court, Divisional trial date was set on the robbery charge.

The Next America can begin in Indiana on May 7.

The people of this country have been pulled apart. There are deep divisions between the races and between the generations. Not all of the people have a decent job. Some of the people haven't got a job at all. Some of them don't have good schools for their children. Some of them don't have a place you could call a home. Robert Kennedy thinks one way to start giving everyone full membership in this country is by self-help projects in inner-cities like the one begun in New York's Bedford-Stuyvesant. There, public resources are being brought in. Private resources are being brought in. And the people living in the community are the ones who are deciding what the community needs, what has to be done. Where schools should be built or old houses replaced by new ones. The people are responsible both for the short-range program of improving the conditions of life within the community and the longer-range program of education and jobs. Robert Kennedy wants to launch this kind of reconstruction over all America, with every person a full participant. This America we've been living in hasn't given everyone that chance. The Next America, the one we are building, has to.

Robert Kennedy for President of the United States.

Capacity crowd enjoys 5th annual Flamingoes' show

In spite of the tornado watch at 2:30 p.m. and the torrents of rain, by 4 p.m. all was clear for the Flamingoes' fifth Easter Show held at the Indiana Roof Ballroom.

The ballroom was packed to capacity with beautifully dressed women, and an air of frivolity prevailed as the dapper S. Henry Bundles, owner of Summit Laboratories, Inc., master of ceremonies, opened the show.

dinner and a cocktail party at The Castle.

At the intermission, the Flamingoes were introduced. Each member wore an after-five gown in white with matching silver shoes and hose. As they were introduced, each took her place on the runway with her fluted Easter basket. Julia Clardy is president of the organization. Other members are Ann Higgins, vice-3rd prize, $25, J. Long.

Another highlight of the evening was the introduction of 10 of the best dressed women in Indianapolis. These ladies were chosen as a result of a poll made by the Flamingoes from various clubs and organizations.

The women were escorted down the runway by one of the past sweethearts of the club. They were Pam Dabner, representing the college set; Sylvia Freeman, Sally McHaffey Fields Lois Richards won, Maxine Jenkins, Helen Crenshaw, Hazel Moore, Carleen Young, Elise Garrison, and Patricia Smith. Each participant received a silver charm from the club, in addition to other gifts.

Excitement ran high when it was time to determine the winner of the 1968 sweetheart contest. Participants were Messrs. James Williams, Lonnie Gupton, Donald Swift, Donald Hobbs, Michael Smith, and Clarence Gaddie. The winners were Messrs. Herman Wright, 3rd place; William R. Perry, 2nd place, and Gates Smith Jr., 1st place for the second year. Awards were made to each contestant and plaques were presented to past sweethearts. The past sweethearts are Messrs. Herman O. Roberts, Jordan Lytle (deceased), and George W. Thomas.

Prizes were contributed by Marty's Men's Shop, the Walker Co., Summit Laboratories Inc., Bailey's Beauty Supply, Charles Anger Furs, Goodman's Jewelry, and The Indianapolis Recorder.

Some of the recipients of the club's charities are the NAACP, United Negro College Fund Inc., Noble School, Douglass Little League Ball Club, Flanner House Guild, YMCA, Urban League, Tarkington Little League Ball Club, and The Recorder Christmas Cheer Fund.

The hallway of the Roof was decorated with hydrangeas, tulips and an Easter bunny, with her basket of eggs.

The stage was an illusion of beauty with the tall white lilies banking the outer stage. Buddy Parker's Trio furnished the scintillating music that served as a background for the introduction of Elizabeth Powers, commentator, and the Fabulous Dress Horsemen.

The show moved rapidly as the Horsemen and their ladies wore many outfits that left a desire for clothes with a flair. They were dapper, personable, handsome, and gave the audience a delightful show.

Prior to their return to Chicago, the Dress Horsemen and Company were entertained with president; Mary Ferguson, secretary; Dolores Higgins, reporter and treasurer; Dorothy Vandever, financial secretary; Sarah Barner, business manager; Ruth Thomas, ticket chairman; Myrtle Williams, cheer fund chairman, and Margaret Perry, sergeant-at-arms. Naturally, their song is "Flamingo" and their club colors are red and white.

After the introduction of officers and members, dyed eggs were thrown to the audience. These who were fortunate in securing eggs were the ones seated close to the runway.

Sarah Barnes and Mary Ferguson were in charge of the raffle. Winners were 1st prize, $75, Mrs. Pearl Freeman; 2nd prize, $50, Clovis Wallace, and

Voice of the Eastside

By Mary P. McGuire

"Martin Luther King was not a Negro leader, but an American leader." This remark was made last Sunday afternoon by Sen. Vance Hartke at St. John Missionary Baptist Church. He spoke on "Human Relations."

Sen. Hartke noted: "Jesus said: 'Love Ye One Another.' He contended that people over 65 years of age should have $100 per month instead of $55 per month. 'There are not enough jobs for everyone. Property taxes are going up. It's hard to pray for peace when you are hungry and are not doing good,' he declared. Offering a solution, he urged all to write to their precinct committeeman, whether a Democrat or Republican, asking them where they stand. 'We can't pay a down payment on the kind of house we would like to have, not mentioning keeping up the payments, therefore we need money to have better housing," he remarked. Mr. Hartke let everyone know it was not a campaign meeting and he was not running for any office.

Receiving a call from Washington, D.C., on Friday that Senator Hartke would be here with Rev. Fitzhugh Lee Lyons in charge, I was urged to assist. Sen. Hartke wanted to go in the homes that needed to know about the human relations programs. We visited homes near St. John Baptist Church on Martindale and made our last walk to the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Strong, 1522 Columbia, whom your scribe had given a two-hour notice to prepare for at least 50 persons. She had plenty of refreshments for all.

Sen. Hartke played selections while there and later Mrs. Rosa K. Horton, minister of music at Mt. Moriah Baptist Church, took over the piano. Several young people sang.

Arriving back at St. John, Sen. Hartke requested these young people to sing again with

OUTLAW—In loving memory of

 who departed this life April 23, 1963.

Why should we weep for those who sleep?
 Our God doth comfort give;
 Above the night, in realms of light
 Our God in Christ still live;
 Our God is God not of the dead
 Who cease to see and know,
 He is the God of saints who live
 Where joys forever flow.
 Our dead are blest from toil
 they rest,
 Beyond all toil and care.
 No tear, no sigh, no wailing cry.

Can touch their spirits there.
 In safe retreat, in joy replete,
 They dwell in peace at home;
 They always wait, at heaven's gate.
 The hour that we shall come.
 Our Lord hath said, "I'll bring your dead.
 When I come down the skies,
 Then from the glooms of dismal tomb,
 Their bodies shall rise."
 Up in the air, some place up there
 We'll be gathered home;
 With Christ to dwell where all is well.
 Where death can never come.

Price, Evans added to Indiana All-Stars

Ten outstanding Hoosier high school seniors, headed by All-American Bob Ford of Evansville North, will join Carmel's Bill Shepherd on the Indiana All-Star squad which will meet Kentucky's finest in the annual in-state rivalry in June.

The first game is scheduled for June 22 in Louisville's Freedom Hall, and the second will be in Hinkle Fieldhouse on June 29.

Although Shepherd, this year's "Mr. Basketball," and the other Indiana All-Stars sport impressive scoring credentials, they were chosen because of their abilities in other phases of the game as well.

Making up the 1968 Indiana All-Star team are:

FORWARDS—Oscar Evans, 6-4, Indianapolis Shortridge; John Van Kurin, 6-3, LaFayette Jeff; Rick Ford, 6-4, Cloverdale; John Hoover, 6-4, Gary Tollestson, and Matt Julkes, 5-11, East Chicago Roosevelt.

CENTERS—Bob Ford, 6-7, Evansville North; and Jim Nelson, 6-6, of state champion Gary Roosevelt.

GUARDS—Bill Shepherd, 5-10, Carmel; Tom Arnholt, 6-2, Columbus; Jim Price, 6-2, Indianapolis Tech, and Don Buse, 6-3, Holland.

Bob Ford led Evansville North to the state title as a junior and set a record of 128 points for the final four games.

This year the husky center averaged 24.8 points and 18 rebounds a game, and he was picked as a first-team All-American by Parade Magazine and

Ellis, Quarry to battle for WBA's crown Saturday

OAKLAND — Jimmy Ellis wants to be the world's heavyweight boxing champion, but he also wants to erase once and for all his image as just a good sparring partner to Cassius Clay.

Jerry Quarry wants to become the first Irish heavyweight champion since Jimmy Braddock.

They will meet Saturday night, April 27, in the World Boxing Association Tournament final, scheduled for 15 rounds in the 14,000-seat Oakland Arena, site of Quarry's 12th-round knockout of Thad Spencer in a WBA semifinal.

Before he began the tournament last August with a ninth round knockout over Leotis Martin, Ellis' biggest claim to fame was as Clay's sparring partner. Ironically, Ellis is the last man to beat Clay, whose WBA title was lifted when he refused military induction. Ellis fought Clay twice as an amateur, beating him once.

Quarry decided former champion Floyd Patterson, with whom he had drawn earlier, and Ellis displayed a new punching power in decisioning Oscar Bonavena.

In every one of their tournament fights, Quarry and Ellis, 28, of Louisville, began as a middleweight and outgrew that and the light heavyweight division. He has never been knocked out in a heavyweight bout.

"The turning point in my career," says Ellis, "was when Johnny Persol was favored and

Willie Mays to head fund drive for Miles College in Birmingham

NEW YORK — Willie Mays, center fielder for the San Francisco Giants, was named national chairman last week of a $2.5-million fund-raising campaign to build a health and physical education center at Miles College, a Negro school in Birmingham, Ala.

Mays, a native of Birmingham, grew up about a half mile from the college. Although he did not attend college, he played baseball as a boy in an empty field on the Miles campus.

"When I feel that my home town needs something, I try to help," the baseball star said at a news conference here at the Commodore Hotel. "This health and physical education center is for the entire community. I understand it will be open for both whites and Negroes."

Also attending the news conference was Lucius H. Pitts, president of the college, which has about 1,100 students.

Pitts said the center would serve not only college students but also the surrounding residential community, which includes both whites and Negroes. He said that in addition to the fund to build the center, the college hoped to obtain more money to endow the facility. It will offer a Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Education.

Miles College, founded as an elementary school in 1905, is sponsored by Alabama and Florida members of the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church.

It is the only four-year college available to most of the 4,000 Negroes graduating annually from Birmingham high schools.

TIES WORLD MARK: Charlie Greene ties the world 100-meter record of 10 seconds flat Saturday in the Kansas Relays at Lawrence. Mel Gray (left), a junior college sprinter, was second and Murray State's Jim Freeman (background) took third.

Greene's :10.0 clocking equals world's record

LAWRENCE, Kansas — "I've got my eye on a gold medal in the Olympic Games, either in the 100 meters or on a relay team. Of course, I'm greedy. I'll take two if I can get them." This was a happy Charlie Greene after he had equalled the world 100-meter record of 10 seconds flat Saturday in sunny 65-degree weather here.

A Kansas crowd of 20,000 watched Greene win the 100 meters by three yards over the fast-finishing Mel Gray, who was timed in 10.1 seconds. "I didn't strain in any way," said Greene, "because it was an easy type of race. I don't feel I'm there yet, but let this be a warning to my adversaries—I'm on my way."

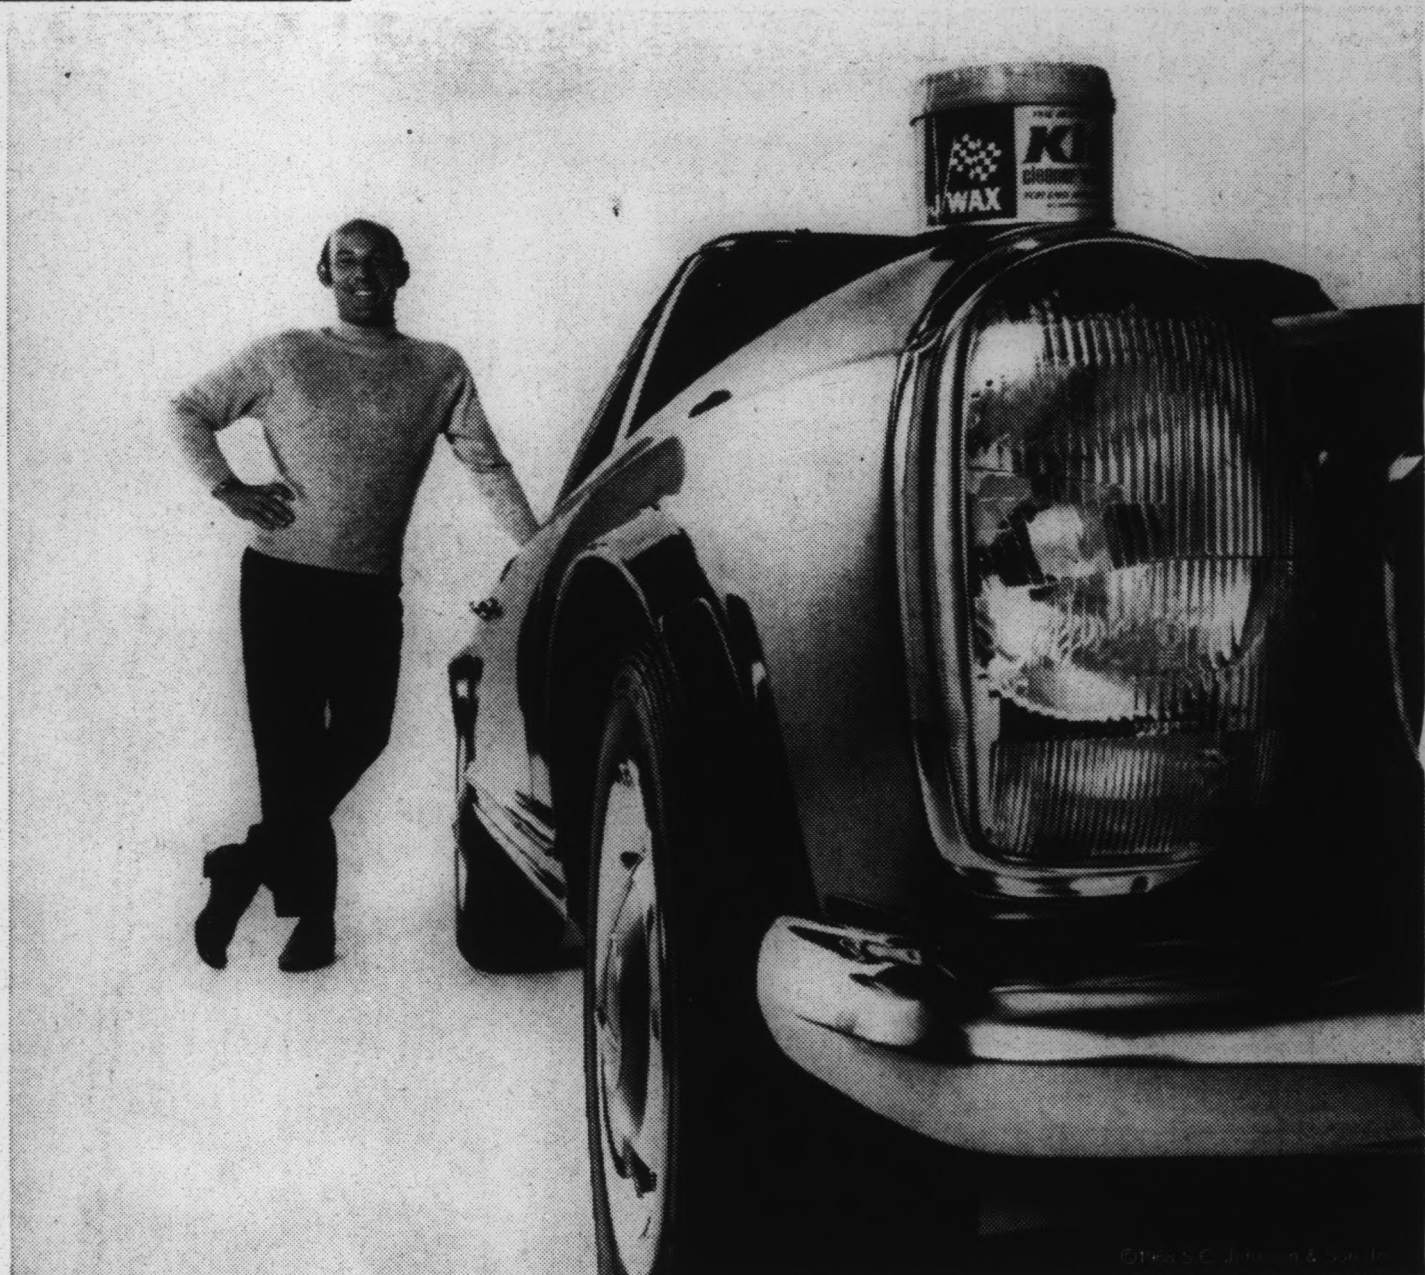

Murray State's Jim Freeman placed third behind Greene and Gray, then anchored two relay teams to victory in the college division competition.

Freeman, who has been timed in 9.3 for 100 yards, was second at the 80-meter mark but Gray caught him in the final strides. Freeman was clocked in 10.2 seconds.

The four-way duel among Green, Gray, Freeman and Jim Hines never developed because Hines had two false starts and was disqualified.

In other track developments, Ralph Boston long jumped 26-3 and helped the Los Angeles Striders set a world record in the 480-yard shuttle relays in the second annual Dogwood Relays at Knoxville, Tenn. The Striders won in 55.4 seconds.

There's nothing ordinary about Kit. This is the paste wax that's pre-softened—so it doesn't take a lot of muscle to put it on. Kit liquefies as it hits your car's surface, practically slides on. And does a deep, thorough cleaning job as it waxes.

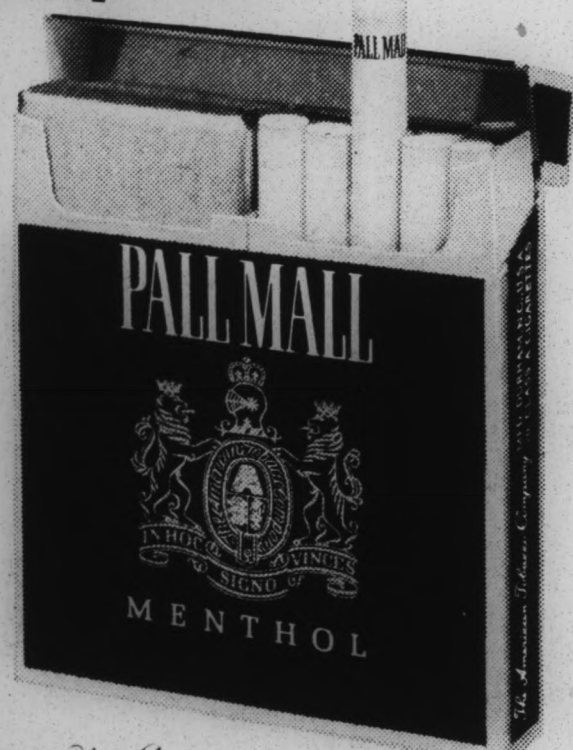

You can forget the old hard buffing routine, too. Just let Kit dry to a haze, then easily buff it off. You get a shine that's deep and lustrous, and hard as nails. Try it. J/Wax Kit. In the yellow tub with high-speed applicator or convenient tin.

Place Bickering

Their bickering over a pre-parley site does neither Hanoi nor Washington much credit, but at least the squabbling is an honest indication of what both sides, and the world, are in for if peace talks get started.

Instant euphoria popularly followed the first hint that the war might be talked away. It never had much foundation in reality, and it was puffed up by President Johnson's frequent claim that the United States would go anywhere any time to talk peace.

The United States, of course, can do no such thing. U.S. negotiators could be compromised at the outset by assignment to a site loaded in Hanoi's favor. South Vietnam and the National Liberation Front have to be accommodated, and both are persona non grata in some quarters. All interested parties need extensive facilities and secure communications with home base; not all sites can assure that.

ence the efforts at one-upmanship and the exercises in mutual recrimination, the latter made as much to score propaganda points in the world opinion mart as to badger one another.

In any case, the present diplomatic thunder clears the air of the unwarranted optimism fanned up by the first faint beating of the dove's wings. Negotiations, if they ever really get going, probably will be long and tedious and certainly will be difficult. Recognition of that now will help keep the issues in perspective once they are joined.

Negroes ignored in 500 festival activities

Although we find ourselves often in disagreement, both in theory and in the manner of implementation, with the so-called militant black power elements of our society, we find our positions in total alignment concerning the group's recent condemnation of the 500 Festival activities.

Although this year's festivities includes several totally black orientated events—including a 'soul' dinner and a fashion show—which might lend itself to the stereotype Negro image reminiscent of the New Orleans Mardi Gras—the Negro is still being overlooked in the mainstream of events.

A glaring example was the fact that the selection of the 33 Festival princesses, five of whom were named Sunday to the Court of Honor to rein over 500 activities, did not include a single Negro girl.

Are we to believe that of the literally hundreds of Negro girls enrolled in the state's institutions of higher learning (one of the requirements is that the prospect be a college student) there wasn't even one qualified to be included among the nominees.

Admittedly, progress has been made and, even now, more progress is being made but, if we are to realize the true American "dream" Negroes must be included in all facets of the American society.

Are U.S. people ready for Sen. Robert Kennedy?

To The Editor:

Hope springs eternal in the human breast. Listening to Senator Robert F. Kennedy on television tonight some of the hopelessness and bitterness engendered by the death of Rev. Martin L. King began to dissolve.

But the big question remains to be answered. Are the people of the United States ready for someone like Senator Kennedy?

Has the death of John Kennedy and Rev. Martin Luther King loosened the shackles and lifted the blindfold of the majority so they can see and feel the courage, honesty and humility of someone like Senator Kennedy—someone who does not profess to have all the answers but has the ability and faith to chart a new course with the help of responsible people?

What motive would drive a man like Senator Kennedy to brave constant threats of violent death and the hate that is expressed in childish mischievousness in the ever so responsible daily press that is directed at him everyday to take over the reins of so divided and misguided a country as the United States?

What but a genuine desire to stay the course of destruction that this country is headed for?

One thing is for sure, he like his brother and Rev. King, will not be defeated through reason and logic but through those who prefer destruction of the whole world rather than to admit that the old order may have been wrong.

Senator Kennedy has the ability to see and the courage to admit the old tradition that white is right has failed. That the American Negro and the dark races of the world are fast throwing off the chains of fear that have ever been the most effective tool of the white man. The great spell of enchantment with everything white that has held the other races spellbound for so long is fast giving way to more practical considerations.

Old customs, values, religions are being dissected with critical eyes. All hypocrites are being exposed. We have reached the eve of last resort. The eve of man's humanity to man.

These are vital questions;

Does man need the whip, the chain, the dungeons, the machine gun, the bomb in order to survive? And if this is a fact there is the question of whether life under these circumstances is worthwhile.

Is killing and destruction done in the name of law and order in the name of patriotism to be preferred to the law of the jungle? Is organized savagery above the savagery of the jungle?

No one knows for the simple reason that no one has had the vision to try another route. There may be people who prefer a life of crime. There may be people who prefer degeneracy to decency but how can anyone say for sure when man has, since the beginning of time, exploited his fellow man?

The strong have always oppressed the weak. Even today all businesses and institutions are operated from the standpoint of huge "profit for a few" method.

American politics are built on fantasy and illusion. The President is expected to have infallible judgement. Yet he is ridiculed and all manner of ulterior motives are daily attributed to him. Yet the man in the streets is supposed to revere and honor him in every way, even to lay down his life on his judgement.

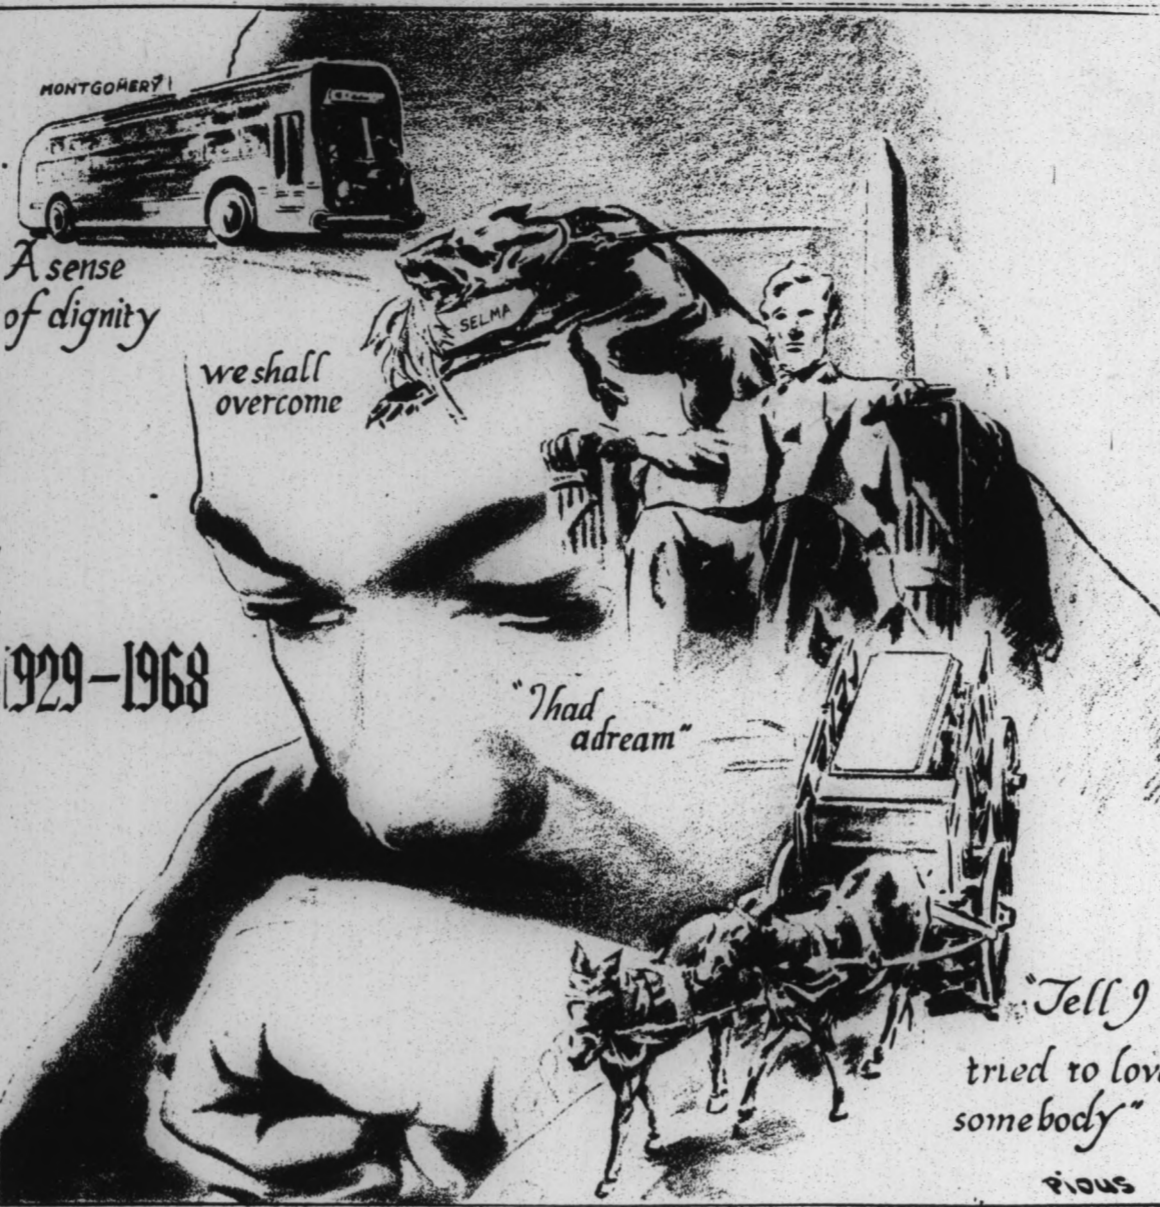

The contradictions are fantastic!

Senator Kennedy is asking the people the alienated, young, the old, the white, the alienated black to go with him in search of the lost sheep in the form of hungry children, the sick, the old, not just for the 'house of Israel,' but for the people of the whole world.

Senator Kennedy and President Kennedy with others of their kind have redeemed the white race. Rev. King and his kind have not redeemed only the black race but all mankind. None of us need remain immobilized with burdens of the past. The Negro with the burden of the shame, the white man with the burden of guilt.

A start in the right direction would be to realize that the United States needs someone like Senator Kennedy much more than Senator Kennedy needs to be President of the United States.

To Be Equal

by WHITNEY M. YOUNG, JR.

Since the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., my desk has been overflowing with mail, mostly from whites.

It falls into two broad categories. The first is from people who just want to say how sorry they are that the tragedy happened. As far as I'm concerned, this is not enough. Negroes have had the sympathy of well-meaning whites for years, and it has done them little good.

Many who are so full of sympathy today never wrote a Congressman to get a civil rights law passed; they never lifted a finger to help get Negroes jobs and decent housing; and their silence helped create the climate of racism which led a madman to pull the trigger that killed a great man of peace.

The other letters come from those who are genuinely concerned with the future of our country. "What can I do?" they ask. They tell of being silent for too long, and they honestly want to know how they can help bring equality to Negro citizens and decency to the nation.

In this tragic period, they offer the nation hope. The vast untapped resources of the silent, decent people have been awakened. They know that this is not a time for vague sympathy, but for action. And they know that the passage of a civil rights bill doesn't begin to pay the debt this nation owes its conscience.

People can start right in their own homes. They have to examine what they teach their children. I don't mean teaching them that nice people don't use certain words to describe Negroes—even bigots today know that vulgarly is bad form. But they have to teach their children positive democratic values.

They can't do this unless they themselves set the example for their children. They have to reach out for friends and neighbors of all backgrounds. They have to treat their household help with the same respect they want for themselves. And they shouldn't exploit Negro household help by paying less than a living wage.

They can use their standing in their community to support democratic values. They can fight for textbooks which accurately reflect the contributions Negroes have made. They can speak out at PTA meetings, neighborhood associations, and other community groups to convince others of the justness of their cause.

It is immoral to talk about equality and then go to an all-white country club or take kids out of the public schools instead of trying to make the schools better. It's immoral to accept the fact of an all-white neighborhood instead of helping Negro families to move in.

People can work through church groups to teach their fellow church-goers lessons in morality. They can help get their unions and employers to take action to recruit Negro workers. They can write their local papers and legislators and let them know that they support equality. If the Birchers can write these letters and can influence public opinion, why can't the decent people? I assume there are enough pawns to go around.

None of this takes much effort. For those of you who want to devote the time and energy which will make more of a difference, there are hundreds of things you can volunteer for, from simple tutoring to more complex tasks. You can go to your local Urban League or NAACP chapter and volunteer for numerous important projects.

But Negro citizens have to work for change too. It won't just fall from the heavens, and it certainly won't come from grumbling about the system. The system has to be beaten, and the way to do it is to beat it at its own game.

That means organizing effective power, economically and politically. It means getting the whole community together to bring about change, and it means making small sacrifices to get big gains. If white youngsters could get haircuts and shave their beards to win New Hampshire and Wisconsin for Gene McCarthy, then Negro militants can tone down their extremism, and stop carping at other Negroes who are fighting hard to bring about equal opportunities.

Poem pays tribute to Dr. King

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following poem is dedicated to Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr. by the writer, Helene H. Beatty, 1353 W. Pruitt.

A friend to man, a friend to beast
Yet all his burdens, now have ceased
The good he did for all mankind
Will linger on the sands of time
Sleep Martin, sleep that peaceful rest

On God's great earth you did your best.
The battle's not lost, your victory's won
For at the setting of the sun
God's messenger, an angel came

Softly whispering this refrain
Sleep Martin, sleep, there's peace and rest
For here on earth you did your best.

Oh dear ones do not cry or moan
For Martin is now sitting around
God's throne
Singing and shouting, how do you do
Through trials and tribulation,
I made it through
Sleep Martin, that peaceful rest
I pray
Your people will overcome someday.

To members and friends, from every race
Within our hearts, he won his place
The dream of his life will never grow old
His work is done, for he reached a goal
Sleep Martin, sleep that peaceful rest
On God's 'great earth' you did your best.

In Focus An Open Letter To The Honorable Richard G. Lugar

By William Howard Clark

Dear Mayor Lugar:

Initially, I wish to say that I admire the courage that you gracefully demonstrated in your presentation on the evening of the funeral of our murdered leader Dr. Martin Luther King. I know that your moving speech on that evening pertaining to the presence of racism in Indianapolis was not universally heralded; however, a young US Senator named John Kennedy once wrote that courage is grace under pressure.

As far as I can determine no other white mayor of an American city has penetrated the conscience of his constituency with such rhetorical force and persuasive eloquence.

In your address, you stated that the death of Dr. King freed the people to speak out. If the speaking out is permanent and will lead to the altering of this city's agenda, then I agree with you that 'this is the great victory of Martin Luther King.' However, if the speaking out is empty words devoid of soul and meaning, and the words are spoken out of the emotional haste of the moment, then I contend that there has been no victory.

Now that the tears are drying and the tragedy and ugliness of the April 4th incident is passing from the headlines, white America is settling back to business as usual—the way life was before the homegoing of Martin Luther King. The truth of the matter is that black America and black Indianapolis is rapidly losing patience with 'business as usual.'

In your compassionate plea for a "vigorous dynamic change of attitude in this city," I could not agree with you more, but a vigorous dynamic attitude can only be measured by the action it takes. After all, attitudes are intangibles which can only be touched through the product which it produces.

Further, I wish to totally concur when you stated 'we had better begin to admit that there are legitimate causes for doubting our sincerity.' For example in your own police department there are operational divisions and units which do not have or ever had any black personnel, such as the communications unit, the dispatchers office, and the training division. Furthermore, the scarcity of black superior officers is an acute and obvious problem.

And then there is the Board of Park Commissioners. For the last ten years or better, there has been a black man on the Park Board, but when you assumed office the one lone black member, who also happened to have been a Republican was removed. Consequently, today the Park Board is all-white. An important organ of local government like the Park Board has no black representation. Yes, Mr. Mayor, there needs to be a 'vigorous dynamic change of attitude.' Wanting to do the right thing and doing the right thing are two different breeds of cats.

I could continue to cite other examples; however, I believe those will suffice for the moment. I am hopeful that your lot will not be like the Old Testament prophet Ezekiel who was told that he was a beautiful orator, a brilliant phraseologist, and a delightful wit. The people always listened when he spoke; they enjoyed the melody and majesty of his words; they loved to hear his lovely words but they did not do them.

FOCUSING: According to Dr. Andrew J. Brown, the president of the Indianapolis affiliate of SCLC, said the Martin Luther King funeral was planned to

Voice From The Gallery

Brotherly love is just around the corner A time for action

With the indication that presently talks will take place among the combatants in Vietnam, and with the pull back in the bombing of North Vietnam, not only have the politicians had to come up with new lures for the voters, the 'good people' of the major ethnic group in America have been able to pursue their favorite hobby of studying the race situation in the U.S.

The senseless slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King helped to put them on course perhaps a little earlier than their timetable called for. It has been the custom for the past four or five years for these good people to begin putting together plans to prevent "hot summers" in our urban centers or to put them down with despatch.

The measures which they have tried in the past have not seemed to work. The slapping down of Adam Clayton Powell, the removing of the heavy weight boxing title from Cassius Clay; the repeated arrests of H. Rap Brown and Stokely Carmichael have not cowed the denizens of Negro slums into complete quiescence.

The fine editorials and speeches condemning the Negro athletes who boycotted the games sponsored by the New York Athletic Club and the refusal of many top Negro athletes to participate in the summer olympics in Mexico City because racist South Africa is being permitted to participate have gone unheeded by those athletes and the writings and mouthings have not brought a cacophony of amens from the majority of the Negroes engaged in civil rights.

Now the church groups, many city officials, and certain segments of the establishment are attempting to use their magic to placate the dispossessed Negroes while the most efficient weapons are being bought by the various police departments to gun down participants in the anticipated "rioting and looting."

The churches which up to now have failed to act as though they really believed in the brotherhood of man and the Fatherhood of God are pouring sums of money to curb the urban crisis and they are operating in the slums outskirts called "inner city projects." These are often manned by ministers with little or no previous contacts with Negroes as human beings, but certainly no worse trained than the missionaries who are sent to Africa without being acquainted with the dark-skinned people who live within a few blocks of them.

The churches which have moved to the suburbs feel apparently that they can save their consciences by donating money for the carrying out of "inner city work." Their work can be carried on by hired hands with the advice and consent of the donors.

Many of the good Christians can work assiduously to get white people to integrate neighborhoods other than the ones in which the advocates live. There are some advocates of open housing who will gladly sell their houses to Negroes if there are indications that the black ghetto is spreading in that direction and buy newer suburban homes in safe lily white subdivisions.

There are many white persons who really expect that Negroes ought not to riot when they know that there is a Negro Senator in the U.S. Senate, a Negro on the Supreme Court and a Negro cabinet member or that there are Negroes making incomes comparable to the average white upper middle class. They fail to realize that these feasts do not substitute for a good paying job or to any job for many submerged Negroes and that the affluence of a minority of Negroes does nothing to improve their delapidated, rat-infested houses and flats.

The benefits which have come to a few Negroes as a result of the civil rights revolution do very little to repair the soul damage that is the lot of the vast majority of Negroes. The inarticulate Negroes in America's cities may not be able to talk about the crystallizing of a color caste system in this country, but they feel the impact of it. The explosions which emanate from the feeling of hopelessness cannot be stopped by a few paltry dollars and the building of newer Jimcrow facilities such as schools, community centers, playgrounds and places of either worship or public accommodation.

The chips are down and stop-gap measures will no longer suffice. America must decide to wipe out her system of color caste or face repeated and stepped up racial upheavals until she joins the in death the great civilizations of the past. There must be equality in life as there will certainly be in death.

The wisdom of self control

LARGER LESSON: Prov. 16: 22-32. Prov. 20:1; 23:19-21, 29-35. LESSON PRINT: Prov. 20:1 23:19-21; 29-35. MOTTOTEXT Prov. 16:22. LESSON AIM: "That adults may learn to subject all their powers unto their will and themselves to Christ." TIME: B.C. 1000. PLACE: Jerusalem.

The book of Proverbs is a collection of the nuggets of wisdom of the centuries unto Solomon's time which Solomon collected and much that he said in his earlier years of his life (Eccl. 12:9). His failure to perfectly live out the advice given does nothing to its Divinity nor its mature utility in the making of men who are daring enough to use it. Suppose we think of our immediate texts as follows: I. Scoffing the Scoffer (Prov. 20:1) II. Some Sober Rules for a Drunken Age (Prov. 23:19-21, 31-32). III. The Way of the Drifter (Prov. 23:21, 29, 33, 35).

SCOFFING AT THE SCOFFER. He in this verse personifies wine and says it mocks our good intentions. He says it laughs our Christianity from its lofty heavens to the lowest hell. He says we must pass up the next bid to a big party where highballs will be served.

Have guts enough to change your menu at your next party. Serve some unspiced punch. Learn to be a good clean entertainer. Throw the dirty jokes out. Keep it clean.

WORDS TO THINK ABOUT: No great advance has ever been made in science, politics, or religion, without controversy. (Lyman Beecher)

AGE AND RELIGION

"How does age affect one's regard for religion?" The Catholic Digest asked in a recent Gallup Poll.

Only 57% of the 18-24-year-olds said that religion was very important to them. The percentage increases step by step in each older age group until we reach 78% for those over 65. All age groups except the 35-44-year-olds (up 1%) declined from the 1952 figures. The biggest decrease was among the two youngest groups.

Someone will be at your party too for others have Christian ideals too. They only want a leader in this new field of clean parties upstairs. The WCTU or the temperance department of your church wants to help right here. Go forward singing: I would be true, for there are those who trust me; I would be pure, for there are those who care; I would be strong, for there is much to suffer; I would be brave, for there is much to dare; I would be brave, for there is much to dare.

SOME SOBER RULES FOR A DRUNKEN AGE. Let us listen to some rules of plain living that will help us in this flask carrying, beer drinking, wine sipping age.

I. Listen to the voice of experience—"my son hear." Don't be a fool and think that "I will experience for myself." If you try to by actual experiment to say "It won't happen to me" and try all the risks taken from the days of Noah risking all the escapades, of Sampson having all the wild parties, of even Solomon and attending all the 1968 shindigs, why these fast moving social galaxies will wear your body out and you won't have nothing to give the Lord when you do come in but a worn out shell.

II. Guide thy feet in the way. Here is a great New Testament term—"The Way." (John 14:6.

Acts 9:2. Acts 16:17. Acts 18:26 Acts 19:23. I. Cor. 12:31. Heb. 10:20). Here is Jesus set forth very early as the way of life even in parties and good times.

III. Watch your company. "Be not among wine bibblers and riotous eaters of flesh." Watch those wild parties as goes the crowd so goes the individual says police court petty of New York City.

IV. Don't look at wild parties too long. Watch what you see in storybook, in novel on the radio and on the television for what gets your imagination gets you.

III. THE WAY OF THE DRIFTER TRAGIC. Look what he says about the drifter and the purposeless mind. (1) It comes to poverty lagness and rage. I think this does not need comment. (2) They come to woes and sorrows. The path of the average drinker is drunk depression, more drink, more depression and sorrow.

I was once in Military Park with my daddy and we saw a man with an empty bottle fussing and fuming with himself. Papa said: "I you ever drink, don't drink alone for there is a way of making one feel he is something and then deceiving him and letting him down to nothing and grief."

It leads to immorality. Thine eyes shall behold strange women. The word behold means look with reverence. Drink, strange women and heartbreak are companion evils.

BEAUTEOUS LESLIE UGGAMS of "Hallelujah, Baby" fame and the scintillating Pearl Bailey of "Hello, Dolly" won only awards last Sunday night. Miss Uggams won the best female star in a musical sharing honors with Patricia Routledge of another musical "Darling of the Day." Miss Bailey, who did a number from the all-Negro play "Hello Dolly," was awarded a special citation for her fine work in the theater. Because she is a replacement in that show, she was ineligible for a Tony award. Best supporting actress in a musical was won by Lillian Hayman, also of "Hallelujah, Baby," which also won as the best musical and best score.

COMING TO COLISEUM MAY 15—Singer Jackie ("Don't Want to Lose You") Wilson, shown kissing Stax-Volt recording artist Mabel John during an engagement at the Whiskey A-Go-Go in Chicago, is Naptown bound with his all-star show consisting of such top artists as: Barbara (Oh, How it Hurts) Mason, Peaches and Herb (Ten Commandments of Love); Jimmy (Having a Good Time) Church, Emory and the Dynamics (Lucky Old Sun), Peg Leg (The Socker) Moffett, The Five Steps (Ooh, Baby Baby); Johnny Jones and the King Casuals band (Blue for the Brothers) plus extra added attractions—The Impressions. Tickets are now on sale in your neighborhood for this great attraction coming to the Indianapolis Coliseum Wednesday, May 15.

LA CHANTEUSE NEPENTHE (nee Ronella Sanders) is currently wowin' patrons throughout South America, where she has been appearing in top nite clubs for the past 2 years. A native of Naptown, Miss Sanders has traveled extensively since her long engagement in Alaska. Her home base is Los Angeles, where she has been living since leaving Indianapolis. She plans to visit her hometown real soon, according to relatives and friends. Several foreign language newspapers with her picture arrived at The Recorder office a few days ago attesting to the popularity and acclaim accorded her in foreign lands. She says she misses those good ribs from Barbecue Heaven.

season and career scoring records. An all-around player who is at his best under pressure, he averaged 23.1 points and 11.5 rebounds this season. Evans also will play in the Shrine North-South All-Star football game this summer.

Van Kurin was a key player on the Lafayette team which was runner-up in the 1967 state tournament. This year he was co-captain and most valuable player on the team which rated among the best in the state all season. He averaged 21.4 points and 11.4 rebounds a game.

Another All-Star who played in the state finals is Rick Ford, who was a sophomore member of the Cloverdale team which made the final four in 1966. In his three-year varsity career, he set a number of scoring marks including a high game of 53 points against Eminence as a junior. This season he averaged 27.8 points and 14.3 rebounds.

Hoover set Tolleston's all-time rebounding record the past season with a total of 491—an average of 20.4 a game. Tolleston defeated Gary Roosevelt twice during the season with Hoover getting 30 rebounds in one game and 21 in the other.

The big forward averaged 15.9 points a game and had a high of 34 against LaPorte. An outstanding football tackle, he was named to the North team for the Boys' Club All-Star game this summer.

When a broken ankle ended his season in early February, Julkes was the top scorer and top rebounder for top-ranked East Chicago Roosevelt. Although only 5-11, he held his own on the boards against tough competition. A three-year varsity veteran, he averaged nearly 20 points and 14 rebounds as a senior.

Arnholz set a number of scoring records at Columbus, including a school and gym record of 50 points against Anderson this season. His 162 assists also was a record. He averaged 25.2 points, 10 rebounds and 6.2 assists, and he was named to most all-state teams.

Price played in the final game of the state tournament in 1966 when Tech was runner-up to Michigan City. A four-year varsity veteran, he has played all three positions. As a forward this year, he averaged 24.3 points, 18 rebounds and six assists. He broke Tech scoring records for regular season total and single season average, and he set a record of 114 points in four games in the city tournament.

Busse was the top scorer and most valuable player on the Holland team which went undefeated until being nosed out by Jeffersonville in the final game of the Huntington regional.

He set a school scoring record this season as he averaged 22.5 points, 12 rebounds and five assists. The slim guard also is rated an excellent defensive player.

Leonard Glazier, who has been student manager at Shortridge, was named manager for the Indiana All-Stars.

Tickets for the local contest on June 29 now are available by mail order only. Orders should be sent to All-Star Ticket Office, The Indianapolis Star, Indianapolis, Ind. 46206, and should include a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Prices are $2.50 and $1.50.

Grambling fights second title jinks

GRAMBLING, La.—Grambling college opened its 1968 baseball campaign last week with poignant reminders that it can be a long time between Southwestern Athletic Conference championships.

Last season the Tigers enjoyed their best season ever, posted an unbelievable 37-3 record, and won the SWAC title.

The momentum carried them all the way to third place in the NAIA world series in St. Joseph, Mo.

But, things have changed, only the informed dare titillate excitement, and nobody envisions a second straight title.

The inextricable law of averages have finally caught up with the Tigers and the team doesn't have the resiliency to stretch to another league championship.

Grambling is expected to display its usual fervor and discipline, but early pressure from Southern University, Arkansas AM & N, Alcorn A & M and

NEW FORMAT

SAN FRANCISCO (NPD)—Composer-band leader Duke Ellington, a musical genius in the field of jazz for the past 41 years, reportedly plans to channel much of his future creativity toward sacred music, Ellington, 68, is currently writing a musical score called "Freedom," for an upcoming concert of sacred music for his orchestra.

DISC AIDS SCLC

NEW YORK (NPD)—Epic Records announced last week that the proceeds from a new single recorded by the 20-member East Harlem Children's chorus will be donated to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, formerly headed by the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. The single is titled "You've Got to Be Carefully Taught," from the show "South Pacific." The children are from New York and range in ages from 8 to 13.

Ellis, Quarry

I knocked him out in less than two minutes of the first round." That was March 22, 1967, in New York, and was Ellis' last fight before the tournament.

Onlookers at workouts predict that Ellis must run and dance in the style of Clay to avoid being floored by the younger Quarry.

Ellis is a half inch taller than Quarry at 6-foot-1, and has a four-inch reach advantage. He says he will weigh from 195-200 for the fight, compared with Quarry's 193.

Ellis, who started hard training a week ahead of Quarry and has sparred 215 rounds, 100 more than Quarry, has a 25-5 pro record, including 13 knockouts.

Quarry's record is 26-1-4, including 15 knockouts.

Each fighter is guaranteed $125,000.

Jackson State will likely expose inherent flaws.

The team lost its best hitter, run producer and clutch performer when Ralph Carr signed with the Atlanta Braves. Carr batted .585 last season and won both the NCAA and NAIA national hitting championships.

President-Coach R.W.E. Jones was also left without a hopeful flicker in his eye when south-law Jimmie Jackson hired off to the St. Louis Cardinals, putting more pressure on the remnants of a young staff that has dwindled to two pitchers with experience.

Jackson, the team's most consistent hurler, unfurled two no-hitters enroute to a sensational 12-1 mark.

Grambling will play a 39-game schedule.

Hired last fall by Grambling College to turn a bunch of obnoxious cats into overnight marvels, former Olympic champion Lee Calhoun has released a 10-meet track schedule for the long suffering Tigers.

Calhoun, who reigned as the world's premier high hurdler and knew both glory and frustration while earning Olympic gold medals in Melbourne and Rome, understandably, will not approach the immediacy desired of wolfing alumni, but the horizon is in sight.

His presence is inspiring total confidence. Grambling doesn't have the kind of talent he fancies, still the situation isn't exactly hopeless.

Happily, the squad has been labeled "respectable" with the kind of enthusiasm that makes it an instant challenger.

Calhoun's intonations for the season are hardly optimistic, and he has no illusions about his task. He admits that "We are mending some fences and hope to surprise somebody."

The reshuffling started officially at Southern University Saturday and continues through June 1 with major stops at the University of Texas and the Penn Relays.

A shortage of outstanding talent will probably find the Tigers eliciting sympathy after each attraction.

Meaning of death of Martin King

BY JACKIE ROBINSON

Because I am an eternal optimist, I have passed the first plateau of grief over the passing of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

I do not pretend that I have begun to reach the mountain-top which God showed the man who, in my view, was the greatest leader of the Twentieth Century.

But I have been able to come to regard his death as perhaps one of those great mysteries with which the Almighty moves his wonders to perform.

I cannot claim to be a deeply religious man. So, in order to reach this plateau, I have found it necessary to consult memory as to the life of Dr. Martin King.

I recall that, in Montgomery, Alabama, Dr. King once preached a memorable sermon. The bus boycott which shook the conscience of the world, was in progress. After many months of sacrifice and miraculous unity of purpose on the part of the 50,000 black citizens of Montgomery, it was believed that the bitter battle would be won. It would be only a matter of a little more time and allegiance to the non-violent ethic.

Then, one night, a terrible event took place. Dr. King's home was bombed and even though his wife and baby daughter escaped injury, awful damage was done to the state of mind of the black community.

For many of the citizens of Montgomery, non-violence had become a way of life only because of their faith in their leader and their admiration for his commitment and dedication. Now, however, the life of that beloved leader had been threatened and the mood of black folk in Montgomery became ugly. By the thousands, they gathered in front of Dr. King's home that night.

There was agitation from some in the crowd to transform themselves into a mob. There were suggestions that they break up and arm themselves and meet again to visit retaliation upon the white community. The Mayor of Montgomery and the Police Chief appealed to the crowd to maintain calm. But the mood grew uglier until Dr. King, who had rushed from his church to the scene in front of his home.

In that eloquent and commanding manner which we are all so familiar, Dr. King pleaded with his people to go home and to desist from any rash or violent act until Sunday morning. He asked them to come to the Dexter Avenue Baptist Church Sunday and to give him a chance to explain why non-violence should continue.

That Sunday morning, Dr. King preached a sermon: "God's will and Man's Bombs," where, he asked, was God in the midst of falling bombs? In sum, what he explained was that God was a dual nature. He is a God of two wills—a creative, redemptive will and a permissive will. When God made man, in order to give man true freedom, God had to allow man the power of choice between good and bad. Dr. King explained, God is all-powerful and all-good. In his creative, redemptive causal will he never plans or creates evil, sickness or war or death or sin. But sometimes God suffers evil to be in order to change the hearts and minds of men so that He can then exercise His creative, redemptive will. So it was with the brothers who sought to slay Joseph. God did not plan murder. Joseph's brothers did that. But in His causal redemptive will after Joseph had been left for dead, God allowed him to escape to Egypt, to come to sit on the right hand of a powerful ruler and to be able to save from famine his father and the brothers who had sought to slay him. Dr. King said that perhaps this was what God had done in Montgomery: allowed some bombs to fall, allowed some property to be destroyed so that the white community could feel the necessity for reconciliation with the black community. History tells us that this is what happened in Montgomery.

Perhaps this is what will happen today in America. Perhaps, after the raging emotions quiet down, perhaps, after the streets of our cities are no longer haunted by angry black people seeking revenge and seeking to avenge the assassination of Martin King, we will find ourselves closer to solving the terrible problems at home and abroad which are confronting us.

Dr. King has paid his last full measure of devotion in the cause of brotherhood. Let us pray that his sacrifice shall not have been in vain. (ANP Feature.)

Educate yourself, irate reader says to Negroes

Voice of people
Oh stupid, ignorant, illiterate, dirty and low educate yourself and wash and sow good seeds about you. Stop destroying, stop begging and lift your eyes and your hands that God has given.

This you do. You can read or you can learn or are you blind or crippled? If you were you could not loot and burn the stores, and the houses, for which someone else has labored. Someone else is sweating, building, and reading while you idled. Comb your hair, press your clothes and go to work.

How can we build a nation if so many of you shirk? It is your responsibility to make it for yourself. Why should others feed you when you're blessed to have good health?

If you cannot go to school, you can buy a book and read. Instead of doing harm to your neighbor, try doing a good deed. You would be surprised how many are less fortunate. Stop your screaming campaigns of hate.

How can you help by hurting, stealing, harming and killing? Oh you fool think and realize that you don't want to help. You don't want anything. A concerned citizen

Writes poem of Dr. Martin

He saw the light when it was dark and dim
When neither day nor sunlight was in sight;
As dark as night-and cold-and freezing cold,
Yet there was day within his dreams and grasp.

There was a man who dreamt with open eyes
While others dared to dream by day or night,
But this Grand dreamer saw the hopes of men
And how the mountains were within his reach.

The hills were but the byways that he choose
And valleys merely avenues to glance
The mountains were his chosen path
And peaks so desolate his great concern.

We saw the dream because he was a "King",
His subjects-unlike royalty remained a part of him.
He walked with royalty but shared
The poor and humble, the naked and the dead.

There'll be no King to speak of peace and love
To tell of hope for man and love for all mankind;
But as the world forgets the teachings he sprung forth
There'll be for him the hope to know "The King" still linger on.

Wines are useful in the most prevalent of all disease conditions—anxiety, according to a leading physician. According to Dr. Russel V. Carmichael sees conspiracy in King slaying

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Stokely Carmichael is convinced that the recent assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was engineered by a conspiracy.

The former SNCC chairman said Dr. King's planned march on Washington was going to turn the United States upside down, and some people wanted the protest stopped.

"They clearly made a mistake when they killed Dr. King," he said.

"It would have been for better if they had killed Rap Brown (SNCC chairman) or myself; then they could have said that 'They lived by the sword, and they died by the sword.'"

Where were FBI agents at the time of the murder, Carmichael wanted to know.

Low interest rate loans for families

Low interest rate loans will be made available to low and middle income families to purchase homes in Indianapolis in the city areas through $1 million in mortgage funds made available by Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. through the Indianapolis National Bank.

Present at the luncheon when the broad, new proposal was made were four Negro realtors, W. T. Ray, Mrs. Edna Johnson, Sea Ferguson, and Augustus W. Hamilton, who discussed implementation of the Metropolitan funds.

Also present were INB mortgage loan officials.

The bank is mortgage representative in Indianapolis for Metropolitan Life. The funds represent part of Metropolitan's $157 million share of the life

GEORGE CARTER

George Carter, 76, 1365 Roache, died April 9 at Veterans Hospital on Cold Spring Road. Services were April 12 at Willis Mortuary, with burial in Floral Park Cemetery. A native of Gallatin, Tenn., Mr. Carter resided here 57 years and was a Columbia Club member for 30 years. He was a member of Mt. Paran Baptist Church, Southern Cross Lodge No. 29, F&AM Prince Hall, and Constantine Consistory No. 25. He was a World War I veteran. The widow, Mrs. Edna L. Carter, survives.

insurance industry's $1 billion pledge to President Johnson to help improve housing conditions in the nation's cities.

The funds are to be used for the purchase of Federal Housing Administration mortgages on one-to-four family and owner-occupied houses.

The money is expected to make it possible for low to middle income families, who would not otherwise be able to do so, to borrow money at reasonable rates to buy homes.

Defrantz cites School Board's lag in city

Robert DeFrantz, candidate for School Board Commissioner on the Non-Partisan slate, believes past boards have displayed a lack of aggressiveness.

Speaking Tuesday during PTA meetings at Schools 36 and 87, DeFrantz said, "The real lack that I observe . . . and you have experienced . . . has been a lack of aggressive leadership on the part of Indianapolis Schools Boards. If there had been a real desire to move education forward in areas such as this, a dynamic Board would have directed its school administration to plan ahead for space and facilities and constantly improve quality of education for all children.

Exactly important, as you well know, a dynamic Board and a concerned administration would consult with a school community facing problems before a critical stage is reached."

"We want to be identified as a race within our own rights with our own ideas of what Negroes are and want to be. Consequently I think we should not be called Africans because they really do not claim us. We should be called Negro-Americans," she added.

Readers voice opinions on term 'Negro'

Readers continue to respond to the question "Do you prefer to be called Negroes or Afro-Americans?"

One writer said that the return to Africa style hairdos among black men is an indication that they are tired of imitating the white man.

"We want to be identified as a race within our own rights with our own ideas of what Negroes are and want to be. Consequently I think we should not be called Africans because they really do not claim us. We should be called Negro-Americans," she added.

REV. COY HICKS

Rites for Rev. Coy Hicks, 75, were held April 22 at Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church, with burial in Floral Park Cemetery. He died April 17 at General Hospital.

A native of Ellaville, Ga., Rev. Hicks lived here 52 years. He served pastorates at the St. Paul Baptist Church, Marion, and the Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church, New Augusta, from 1920 to 1943. From 1945 to 1965, he served at the St. John Baptist Church, Detroit.

Survivors include a brother, Charles M. Hicks, city and several grandchildren.

association for the Advancement of Negro-Americans.

Another woman wrote that the term Negro was a name put on minorities by white people. She said she prefers to be called black-American or Afro-American. "Negro" is vulgar. The sooner we let go of that kind of word, the better off we as black people will be," she asserted.

Disorders

He said that jobs and homes are among necessities it takes to make people know they have a self-interest in racial equality.

Mr. Booth pointed out that human rights laws now on the books are not enforced. He cited one federal law which provides that contractors which receive federal business have the duty to cancel contracts with discriminating contractors or discriminating unions but thus far only one contract has been cancelled and that was in Philadelphia.

He said social welfare laws are also not enforced and that only certain people are allowed to gamble while others are arrested. "Money and influence rule the country," he asserted.

Mr. Booth declared that color is false and has divided people, adding that to use it prejudicially in private (homes) or public is wrong.

"We must find areas of agreements and stop thinking of superficial differences. We must march down the aisle with them," Mr. Booth challenged.

The civil rights leader said that the color division has existed too long in the United States and that all colors must rid themselves of the divisiveness since "we all came from one God."

Mr. Booth charged that American History books are slow, divisive, and distorted in pointing up what the Negro has contributed to the country. He recommended the book, "Black Power Revolt," by Floyd Barber to his audience.

He noted that prejudice runs rampant in Mississippi but is "sophisticated" "way up south" in devious Indiana.

Mr. Booth said that while in Mississippi in 1943 as a soldier he was arrested for not leaving the sidewalk for a white man and vowed he would never again return to Mississippi.

However, he noted that he has returned to the state on several occasions to aid Charles Evers in his fight against racial equality. He said that Mr. Evers must keep a gun on the front seat of his car, back seat of his car, and in the glove compartment of his car for his own protection. Guns are kept in every window in the Evers' home, Mr. Booth said that when Mr. Evers travels across the South, he must change the color of his car in each city to protect himself.

He also said that Charles Evers regularly sees the white man who assassinated his brother, civil rights leader Medgar Evers, on the streets of Natchez, Miss. He said that the man, Byron De La Beckwith, looks on all sides of him as he walks down the street not knowing if someone is going to kill him. He said Beckwith is "living in his own hell."

He challenged his listeners to write to their representatives concerning civil rights legislation.

On color, he said that while the master was in the huts with the maids, the houseboy was in the house with the mistress. He indicated this as a reason for light skinned Negroes. Mr. Booth is a light skinned Negro.

Atty. John Preston Ward was master-of-ceremonies. Rev. Melvin Gorton, pastor of Christ Missionary Baptist Church, gave the invocation. Andrew Jacobs Jr., congressman of the 11th district, introduced Mr. Booth.

Mrs. Doris Ward, president of the Walter F. White Branch and the Metropolitan Council of the NAACP, made the membership appeal.

Introduction of the political aspirants and other distinguished guests was made by Earle Barnett, co-chairman of the dinner. Mayor Richard G. Lugar spoke briefly.

Special plaques were presented for honorable service toward making the banquet a success to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bowman (she was the general chairman of the dinner) and Mrs. Osma Spurlock, a co-chairman. Rev. John G. MacKinnon of All Souls Unitarian Church gave the benediction. Movie star Paul Newman made a surprise appearance at the dinner and said he wanted to become a member of the local branch since he was so inspired by the gathering.

Seemingly, the Northwest school issue will be carried into the Federal courts with the local plaintiffs represented by counsel from New York, national offices of the NAACP. The names of 40 plaintiffs to the cause in court have been forwarded already to the national offices of the NAACP in New York City.

Negro citizens or supporters of the YMCA are collecting names to petitions protesting the discharge of Mr. Hamilton. Some white, civic and religious leaders have pledged their support.

Members of the YMCA board of directors lately have denied that Mr. Hamilton's discharge from the "Y" post had anything to do with his activities in the NAACP or on the school issue.

They aver that the branch membership has been declining, no organized programs were maintained and that he was not qualified for the post. Mr. Hamilton was formerly a "Y" official in Indianapolis. He plans to stay in this city and continue his NAACP activities.

Houses are available for buyers

The weekend in honor of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. is off to what appears to be an overwhelming success.

People are responding in substantial numbers to the invitation to see homes available throughout the entire county.

"We expect that between 100 and 200 people will visit the offices of the Special Committee on Housing Saturday and Sunday between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. at 233 N. Pennsylvania on the second floor," Prof. Daniel Baum, the devout director of the project noted.

There approximately 300 to 400 parcels of property will be listed and shown and sold. Many of these properties can be purchased for as little as $300 down and $60 to $80 a month.

These properties are made available exclusively to persons who have been dislocated due to government action such as highway, park construction, and code enforcement.

The properties are generally in the price range of $10,000 to $15,000. Other more expensive properties will be made available by all elements of the real estate community both black and white.

This is an invitation to buy in a free housing market.

THOMAS BRIDGES

Negro History baffle

In today's baffle, identify the personalities associated with some of the week's news events. Because many of these people are well-known, you will be asked to name them without benefit of multiple-choice or Grab Bag clues.

Scoring: 6-10: excellent; 4-5: fair; 0-4: poor. Bonus Question counts two points. Here's the quiz:

1. The nation's three black big city mayors are among the 1968 selections for the annual Russwurm Awards of the National Newspaper Publishers association. Name the three mayors and their cities.

ROBERT EDELEN

Robert Edelen, a former resident of Indianapolis and presently a public relations executive in Compton, Calif., is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for U.S. Congressman from the 21st District of California.

The 21st District includes South Central Los Angeles, Watts and part of the city of Compton.

Edelen, a graduate of Crispus Attucks High School and Butler University as well as Southwestern University, said as an independent Democrat he believes that the United States must definitely get out of Vietnam.

"If war is some kind of 'A' priority, than prevention of war, civil war, should be 'I-A'." Our domestic problems are more devise to our nation than foreign affairs and if we do not get about solving them, the Vietnamese may have to save us from ourselves."

Edelen pointed out that the recent report on civil disorders indicated a need for better minority political representation.

"Los Angeles is no exception," Edelen said, "as we have witnessed the gradual deterioration of the black and the Mexican-American community here under the eyes of an elected legislator for the past 30 years, and he is still holding public office."

Edelen said he hopes to create who do not act in the best interest of the people. He said he is aware among minority people that we must assume the responsibility for firing political representatives interest of the community.

Edelen said our youth should be able to identify with a minority legislator that is in tune with new thinking and gutsy enough to function before the fact.

"We need an image of minority statesmanship that can draw the respect, cooperation and trust of our youth." We must honestly communicate and organize toward the perpetual succession of good, qualified, political representatives that are obligated only to the people they are elected to serve.

The 39-year-old Edelen has been a California resident since 1957. He holds bachelor degrees in political science and law.

Before working as a public relations executive for a large Los Angeles company, Edelen was a state parole agent and a county probation officer. He is married and has four children.

Bodine speaks on poverty in campaign

State Representative Richard C. Bodine, leading Democratic candidate for the nomination for the office of Governor of the state of Indiana, speaking recently at the Franklin County Women's Democratic Club Dinner in Brookville, Indiana, stated that "poverty of spirit is the basic poverty about which we should all be concerned."

Bodine, former Speaker of the House of the 1965 Indiana General Assembly and House Minority Leader in 1967, added that "when we profess to love our fellow man, it should be all men and should have nothing to do with poverty or wealth, intelligence or ignorance, prestige or lack of it."

Bodine also called for support of Gov. Roger Branigin's presidential favorite son candidacy by saying that "the interests of the Democratic Party in Indiana will be best served by a victory for Governor Roger Branigin on May 7th."

Bodine was recently reported as a 2-to-1 favorite for the nomination for the office of Governor in an Associated Press poll of Indiana Democratic County Chairmen.

visory Committee will consider the Jacobs proposal at its next meeting.

No date has been set but Mrs. Virginia Brizendine, director of philately, said the committee will meet by June 15. Chairman of the committee is Mr. David Lidman, stamp editor of The New York Times.

Mrs. Brizendine said the committee each year recommends that the Postmaster General issue approximately 15 commemorative stamps. Ten such stamps have been approved this year, she said.

Congressman Jacobs was assured that the stamp in Dr. King's honor will receive top priority attention, if it is recommended for issuance by the committee and subsequently approved by the Postmaster General.

A spokesman for the Postmaster General stated that the stamp could be ready for public sale two or three months after its issuance has been approved.

pastor of New Bethel Baptist Church and President of the Church Federation of Greater Indianapolis, spoke for the assembled group of ministers. Lyman S. Ayres, Chairman of the Board of L. S. Ayres and Company welcomed the guests.

Mr. Evans said his company feels the most pressing problem of the Negro is his deficient economic base. "We at Ayres are in a position to do something about it."

He surveyed the innovative Ayres program in which present employees are given the opportunity to express their employment ambitions within the firm and are given every opportunity to advance.

In noting the upgrading program, he pointed to the following promotions of Negroes within the organization: buyer, assistant-buyer, department sales managers, Ayres-Way supervisor in Ayres-Way Store, beauty operator, salesman in women's shoes, advertising artist, model, private secretary to a division executive and management trainees.

Ayres recently began a program directed by the Board For Fundamental Education which seeks to improve the education base of present employees and prepare them for new positions of greater responsibility.

Classes conducted by BFE will be held in the Ayres downtown store each afternoon for such employees.

Ayres personnel people regularly visit social services centers in the poor neighborhoods to recruit workers. Working closely with the College Room, MACS and Flanner House, the retail firm has placed more than 50 men and women on jobs since the first of the year. This is in addition to other persons hired through the regular Ayres employment procedure.

Mr. Evans told the ministers that Ayres has eliminated the use of tests as a pre-employment requirement. The Ayres executive drew applause when he announced, "we have revised our thinking on police records." He said that in the past a record—any record—barred a man or woman from employment. "It now depends entirely on what the record says. Was there a conviction? What is the nature of the record?"

He pointed out that under the present policy judgement is applied. He said this policy is not an easy one, but it is the only fair one.

Carrying its feeling that the Negro economic base must be strengthened further, Ayres has moved into the community and is doing business with Negro-owned firms.

Mr. Evans said presently this involvement includes members of the National Business League. He said that by doing business with N.B.L. members these firms prosper, that in turn creates jobs, we communicate and in so doing bridge the gap.

In answering to a question relating to stock purchases in the Ayres corporation, Mr. Evans announced that within a few days a volume of common stock would be placed for sale and that every citizen of Indianapolis is invited to become part owner of the firm.

Old Taylor Presents: Ingenious Americans

Charles Richard Drew (1905-1950)

He found a way to save lives by saving blood.

When someone needs a couple of pints of blood for a transfusion, his doctor simply telephones the local blood bank, and the proper type and quantity will be there in minutes. We take this for granted.

But what most of us don't realize is that only twenty-five years ago this simple phone call was impossible.

It was not until 1941 that Dr. Charles Drew, then director of the British Blood Plasma Project, introduced the revolutionary idea of a central depository for blood—a blood bank.

Drew's next step was to improve the methods of preserving blood. And, as the first director of the American Red Cross Blood Bank, he supplied much needed plasma to the United States Armed Forces.

But it was not only in the banking of blood that Dr. Drew made his mark. In the 1930's, as a professor and head of surgery at Howard University Medical School, Dr. Drew trained and encouraged hundreds of young doctors. Under his strong and inspired leadership, the enrollment at Howard swelled.

Shortly after the war, Dr. Drew was named Surgical Consultant for the United States Army. Then, a year later, his career was brought to an abrupt halt by his untimely death in an automobile accident.

Dr. Charles Drew left an enduring mark in many fields. He had been an outstanding athlete and coach, a magnetic speaker, an inspiring teacher and dynamic administrator, a gifted scientist and, above all, a skilled surgeon.

Memorials and monuments are unnecessary, for that simple phone call serves as a constant reminder of the momentous contributions Dr. Charles Richard Drew made to the world.
